

Arthur A. Wishart Library
Algoma University
Library Donation Form

Arthur A. Wishart Library accepts donations that support the studies, teaching, and research of faculty and students. The Library accepts books, current and back issues of journals, government and non-government publications.

Donors may receive a tax receipt for items accepted by the Library, at their discretion. Library staff members conduct the evaluation in most cases. Evaluations attempt to determine the current, fair-market value of each gift. The university's Office of Advancement issues tax receipts after it receives the Library's evaluation.

Once donors have agreed to donate a gift to the Library, the Library reserves the right to process the gift as it is deemed to be appropriate. Items will not be returned to donors unless requested.
